yoredale

creates the charm and impression of a well established garden

Yoredale creates the charm and impression of a well established paved area. The edges have the characteristic quarry tooled finish which adds further to their authentic appearance. Available in eight sizes which gives the option of laying in intricate formal patterns or in a completely random manner.

With three natural colours this only adds to their air of timelessness and solidity. This makes them ideal for older more mature properties, renovations or for that retro look on a new development.
